REMINISCENSES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Gleanings From the Records Left By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

Readers of these skethces will doubtless remember the account of the somewhat mysterious fire which destroyed the large warehouse of Hanson, Ackerson & Co., the striking features of what was the utter inability of either of the owners of the place or the authorities to account for the origin of the fire. This it will be remembered was due to the fact that no one had been known to have been about the place for several hours previous to the fire, which was discovered a little after midnight, and the further fact that fire was never kept in the building. Time however seems to furnish a solution for all seeming mysteries, and this proved to be true in this instance. In the latter part of April, 1876, preparations were made for the eretcion of a building to take the place of the one destroyed, and it was in this that the seeming mystery was practically solved and a reasonable means of accounting for the fire discovered. While some workmen were engaged in removing the debris from the old foundations prepatory to the erection of the new warehouse they discovered a heap of apparently human bones, much burned and partically consumed. These bones were taken to Dr. Kirkpatrick who, after a thorough examination positively confirmed the first impression, that the bones were the remains of a human being, thus rendering it certain that a man had perished in the fire. Careful investigation also developed that positive statement that at the time of the discovery of the fire it had been noticed that the upper portion of the double warehouse doors was opened. It it was also stated that a number of tramps hadbeenabout the vicinity about that time. This suggests the perfect tenable theory that one of these roamers had gained access to the warehouse through the upper door and carelessly allowed a pipe to drop from his mouth as he went to sleep. Additional color was given to this solution by the finding of a partially broken clay pipe near the remains of the man. And thus another so called inexplicable mystery was made clear.

For the first time in the history of the town the election of municipal officers, which occurred on the 1st of May, was the occasion of a considerable contest, one in which there was some bitterness. This was to some extent due to the fact that for the first time since the incorporation of the town the office of clerk and superintendent of streets, the only positions for which salaries of any consequence was provided, had been made elective instead of appointive. For the three trustees to be elected there were six candidates to choose from, while there were four aspirants for clerk and two for superintendent of streets. Various combinations of these candidates were presented until there were not less than a half-dozen tickets in the field, and even with this municipality of tickets some considerable scratching was done. That there was a considerable interest in the contest is shown by the fact that a totle of 234 votes were cast. These were scattered among the various candidates for trustees as follows: G. Plump, 130 Jas. Hilton, 145; Jas. Crowe, 181; D. G. Leary, 96; M. Kreiss, 65; T. Lynch, 36; thus giving the election Plump Hilton and Crowe. For clerk the vote was divided as follows: H. C. C. A. Schofield, 87; Chas. Reed, 75; C. C. Kinsey, 52; C. C. Underwood; eletcing Scofield. L. A. Parsons was eletced superintendent of streets by a vote of 113 against 111 for John Hanley. For marshal there were three candidates, H. Grimmenstein winning by a vote of 107 against 83 for W. Clark and 27 for G. L. Sampson. G. W. Fox for treasurer and S. B. Gilbert for assessor were elected without opposition.

On May 24th, 1876, A. A. Haskins was placed on trial for murder in first degree in the killing of Chas. Johnson at Pescadero a little more than a year before. The testimony at the trial brought out the facts practically as given in these sketches at the time of the account of the affair, showing that Haskins had been the aggressor and had provoked the trouble. The parents of the defendant, who was a young man of not over robust health, made every effort in his behalf, employing three prominent attorneys to defend him, and scouring the section for witnesses who would testify to the least fact which might be held up as an extenuation or leave of the impression on the minds of the jury that the shooting miht have been in self defense. After a lengthy deliberation the jury returned a verdict of murder in the second degree and Haskins was given a sentence of ten years in San Quentin by Judge Daingerfield, who took into consideration the fact that the prisoner had been in deli cate health from childhood and for this cause was of a rather irascible temper in placing the penalty at the lowest allowed by law. Haskins came from a well known and highly respected family who had the respect of the community and the sympathy of the people in their misfortune.

While the people of Redwood City were racking their brains for a solution of the question of a supply of water for public and domestic uses, G. Plump, one of its enterprising citizens evolved a scheme which seemed to promise an end of the trouble, as far as himself was concerned at least, and by a bit of inventive genius prividid a supply sufficient for his uses with little labor and at the same time provided a wholesome exercise for his favorite dog. This was nothing less than a "one dog power" pump. Plump during his leasure moments constructed an immense wheel with a diameter of 12 feet, and with the outer rims nearly two feet apart. Between the two outer rims he provided a runway, in which the dog was placed, and the travels about the dunway gave sufficient momentum by the force of gracity to drive a pump sufficient to raise all the water required about the place. While as far as can be ascertained this was the only pump of this character constructed, It was suggested at the time that the town contained a sufficient number of dogs if means were taken to thus utilize their power to supply every resident with water and thus solve the problem that had been a source of much worry and speculation.

MOTHER'S VISIT.

The Old Lady Meant Well, but She Got a Severe Shock.

An old fashioned woman from the country recently packed some fried chicken, bread and doughnuts in a market basket and went to see her daughter, who lives in a big city. She was scandalized when the family stayed up till 11 o'clock and decided that she wouldn't tell pa about it when she wrote home next day. "He might think we have fallen into evil ways," she said to herself as she was going off to sleep.

She awoke at her usual time, 4 o'clock, and the house seemed strangely quiet. "Town folks do get lazy," she thought, "and they probably don't get up till 5." She dressed and went downstairs and watched the clock until 5. Not a sound. Then she waited till 6, and at 7, between hunger and alarm, she was almost crazed. "They've been murdered in their beds!" she yelled at 8 o'clock from the front steps. And soon the house was filled with people rushing in to see what had happened.

The family were surprised and indignant when police, market gardeners, newsboys, etc., rushed into their bedrooms and woke them up. And this explains why the old fashioned woman came home that day. "I never expected," she sobbed to pa, "that any girl would talk to her ma as Jane talked to me."—Atchison Globe.

HAWAII'S BIG VOLCANO.

Curious Relics of Lava It Has Left In the Forests.

Hawaii possesses one of the greatest natural wonders of the present day world—a live volcano as high as Vesuvius and twice its diameter.

Kilauea, on the island of Hawaii, stands thirty miles from the sea in a mountain range in which are three dead volcanoes and one partially alive. This last, called Mauna Loa, from time to time sends streams of lava down its slopes. In 1881 three streams burst forth from the sides of this mountain, and one of them came within three-quarters of a mile of Hilo, the chief city of the island. There have been several outbreaks of Kilauea in the last hundred years. In 1840 there was a brilliant eruption of lava, the light of which, it was said, could be seen a hundred miles away, while at the distance of forty miles one could read print at midnight.

Where the lava flowed through the forest it has left curious relics in lava arches, bridges and great vases. These vases were formed by the lava piling itself about some lofty tree trunk, burning away the wood within and killing the upper part of the tree. In the course of time seeds were deposited in the open top, filled with decaying bark, until now there is a gigantic lava vase, holding ferns and flowers and vines.—Exchange.

Character of the Montenegrins.

Nowhere is love of country more intense than among the Montenegrins, to whom exile is the greatest of punishments. When Mr. W. J. Stillman was there in the seventies all the free men were away fighting, and he observed how, when a messenger was wanted, the official took a man out of the prison and sent him off, with no fear that he would not return. One such messenger was sent to Cattaro, in Austrian territory, with 3,000 florins for the bank, and duly came back. Another asked a Russian at Cattaro to intercede with Prince Nicholas for his release from prison. "But you are not in prison!" said the Russian. "Oh," said the man, "I have only come down for a load of skins for So-and-so, but I must go into prison again when I get back to Cetinje." One guard watched all the prisoners when they sunned themselves out of doors, and if he were called away a prisoner would take his rifle and do duty for the time.—London Chronicle.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

And now the San Mateo Woman's Club is going to take a hand in the regulation of the saloon industry of that city. They have adopted a resolution asking the city fathers to prohibit side doors and to raise the license to $800 per year. They also insist that minors and women shall be kept out of saloons.

Whether they intend seeking the location of other business enterprises within their limits, the town of Hillsborough have not yet made known, but they have definitely announced to all whom it man concern that they have no desire for the establishment of booze dispensaries. They have adopted an ordinance which prohibits the licensing of saloons within the limits of the town. Well, with a few "clubs" what's the use of a saloon anyway.

Judge Lennon is to be congratulated upon the splendid support given him by San Mateo county, his majority being one of the largest given to any candidate upon the general ticket. In this assistance to the elevation of Judge Lennon to the Presiding Justice of the Appelate Court of this district we feel that the people of the county have made no mistake. To this result we consider that this paper had in some measure contributed. We have earnestly supported Judge Lennon for the reason that from a personal knowledge of his sterling traits of character we were convinced that he was the man fitted by every qualification of learning and experience for the place, as well as from the promptings of a schoolmate friendship.

One of the really remarkable incidents of the campaign in San Mateo county was the strong vote of confidence given Supervisor Blackburn by the people of his district. Tha at canddiate without a party nomination, whose name appears on the ballot apart from the regular nominees, should succeed under any circumstances is regarded as rather out of the usual. Yet, notwithstanding this and the fact that he was laboring under the still stronger handicap of an indictment for misconduct in office, he has received at the hands of his neighbors the endorsement of an election by a majority unusual in the district under any circumstances. Apparently the only inference that can be drawn from this result is that the people among whom he should be best known are far from convinced of the truth of the charges.

TRUE TO HER TRADITIONS.

As has been confidently predicted by the leaders of the party, California has remained true to her traditions and again placed herself firmly in the ranks of the Republican party. Not only has she elected a Republican governor, but has backed him up with a good working majority in both branches of the Legislature, and a full complement of state officials who will work in harmony with the administration. And of at least as much importance, she had returned a full Republican delegation to Congress, and will still be found allied with those principles of protection for the industries of the Nation which have contributed to her prosperity in the past.

To this splendid result San Mateo county has contributed her full share. To the support of the state ticket she has given an undivided effort, and this, in spite of the efforts of the opposition to create dissention in the ranks of the party.

Locally the results are equally satisfactory to the members of the Republican party. While the entire ticket has not been elected, the exceptions are sufficiently few to make it certain that the county can safely be counted as in the Republican column. That the entire ticket was not eletced was due more to individual conditions than to the strength of the opposition.

The election of Franklin Swart to the District Attorneyship was by no means unexpected, though it was scarcely expected even by his friends that his majority would be as large as it proved to be. This result seems to be due to two personal causes, neither of which reflect upon either the character or learning of his opponent. First of these was the strong personality shown by him in the canvass. With an abundance of that quality of personal megnetism which rapidly gains adherents and makes friends of even strangers, Mr. Swart made a most thorough and energetic campaign. Added to that was his advantage over his opponent in years and extent of legal experience as a practitioner. In view of the peculiar condition of the affairs of the county, many people who would otherwise have supported Mr. Green felt that the office required a man of more matured judgment and practical experience. Given these qualifications, which in a few years he will have acquired, there is no doubt that Mr. Green will make an acceptable candidate for the office.

That Sheriff Chatham failed of reelection is probably due largly to the apathy of his campaign, mainly the result of over confidence. Feeling that he was entitled to the support of his party he failed to make that personal appeal to the voters which a determined canvass on the part of his opponent should have justified, as well as to the fact that the full strength of the Republican vote was not cast.

The following resolution, presented by McEvoy, was adopted on motion of Casey, seconded by Coleman:

Whereas, on the 10th of April, 1910, there expired a water lease executed by S. T. Hallide, and wife, with the County of San Mateo; and, whereas, they refuse to renew said lease, and as water is absolutely necessary for the protection of the roads, now be it resolved, and it is hereby ordered, that the supervisor of the Third township, be authorized to enter into, and execute on behalf of the County of San Mateo, a lease for water covering a period of ten years, at a price not to exceed eight cents per thousand gallons, from the most accessible, and nearest point.

County Entomologist Hunter rendered a report to the effect that a more vigorous campaign will be urged next year against the mosquito pest. The prevailence of the insects in the San Mateo neighborhood is due to the flooding of the marsh, caused by the breaking of the levees.

WILL HAVE MODERN FIRE ALARM SERVICE

Cliy Council Concludes Contract for Up-to-Dates System of Property Protection.

Owing, undoubtedly, to the counter attraction of the big Republican mass meeting, there was but a small attendance of spectators at the meeting of the City Council Monday evening, although all of the Trustees except Beeger were on hand in good time and ready to attend to the business of the city. And although some of the members of the board cast longing glances at the opposite side of the street as the music of the band floated into the room, there was a considerable amount of good business disposed of, the most important of which was the final conclusion of arrangements for the purchase of the electric fire alarm system. During the interim between the sessions the trustees had met with the representatives of the Gamewell Fire Alarm and Telegraph Company and carefully gone over the plans and specifications and details of the specifications and contract, and when the matter came up all was ready for the formal approval and the authorization of the signatures of Chairman Merrill and Clerk Plump. The system when completed will be of the most complete and modern class and will cost the city a total of $5065, $2000 of which is to be paid upon the completion of the system and the balance in three annual installments.

Attorney H. W. Walker, acting on behalf of the trustees of the Redwood City school district, presented a deed to the city for that portion of the school property necessary for the extension of Phelps street, stating that the deed was made in accordance with the authority given the board at a public meeting of the tax payers of the district called for the purpose. City Attorney Mansfield presented deeds to other property required in the extension of the street, but as all of the required deeds were not completed, action was delayed until the next meeting.

McGarvey, Hess & Kreiss gave notice that they had completed the macadamizing of Lowell, Myrtle and Nevada streets, in District 14, and asked that the work be accepted. Hearing on the petition was fixed for November 21st.

The owner of the schooner Malaline presented a claim for $75 as damages caused by delay of the schooner at new East Bradford street bridge during its construction between October 15 and 20th. The trustees considered that the city was not liable under the claim but decided to lay the final consideration over until the next meeting in order that the claim might be fully investigated.

Morarty and Perkins, the contractors for the new bridge presented two claims for extra work, both of which were refused payment. The first of these was for $60.50, which was claimed as extra work because of a reversal of the position of the draw. The item of this bill which pafticularly staggered the trustees was a claim for excavating in which the price charged for common labor in digging was made at the rate of $4.50 per day. The other claim was for $121.87 for extras the firm claimed had been required, but which the trustees considered as part of the equipment due the city under the contract.

Action upon a report from J. B. Leonard, the engineer who prepared the plans for the bridge, that the work had been completed and advising its acceptance was laid over upon the motion of Trustee Hynding who expressed the opinion that the bridge should be inspected by the members of the council before its acceptance.

City Clerk Plump was directed to make a formal request to the United gas and Electric Co., for permission to install a switch box for the new fire alarm system at the station of the company in this city.

Permission was granted the United Gas and Electric Co. to lay gas mains in Phelps street from Chestnut to Spruce.

In a communication the State Board of Health suggested that a physician of the City Health Board be sent as a delegate to the meeting of the League of Municipalities at San Diego. Chairman Merrill informed the council that Dr. A. M. Taylor, president of the local Board of Health had volunteered to attend the convention without expense to the city, and Dr. Taylor was named by the Council as a delegate.

The Tacoma Mill Co. presented a deed to a small piece of property at the junction of Washington and East Bradford streets for the purpose of allowing of a proper shaping of the corners of these streets. The deed was accepted with the thanks of the council.

The contractors for the improvement of the county road were allowed an extension of time until next June in which to complete the work. To a very great extent the delay in due to the difficulty in securing the satisfactory metal for the culverts.

In reporting upon the progress of work on the County Road, city expert Heyman took occasion to compliment the Spring Valley Water Co. upon the promptness with which they had prosecuted the work of changing the location of their mains and the thorough manner in which the work had been done.

City Marshal Coleman was given authority to employ extra help during the collection of assessments now due from the property owners in the Dingee Park street improvement districts which are now due and will become delinquent on the last Monday in this month. This action will make it possible for some person to be in the marshal's office in the town hall every day from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 in the evening for the convenience of tax payers.

BLOCKADED
Every Household in Redwood City Should Know How to Resist It.

The back aches because the kidneys are blockaded.
Help the kidneys with their work.
The back will ache no more.
Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.
It's the best proof, for it comes from Redwood City.
Mrs. A. H. Lanfear, Heller and Chestnut streets, Redwood City, Cal., says: "We consider Doan's Kidney Pill an excellent remedy and can give them the strongest recommendation. About three years ago they were first used in our family, when we lived in Buffalo, N. Y. Their use in my case brought prompt and positive relief from pain and lameness in the back and other distressing difficulties due to weak kidneys. To say the least, the results were gratifying. Another person in our household who suffered from backache found Doan's Kidney Pills very effective and has used them off and on since then with good results."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Uncle Sam evidently has not had a very prosperous year and will have to economize some in order to catch up. To all those who find it necessary to economize, we suggest that they patronize this laundry. If we cannot please you with the method of our laundering, there's no laundry that can please you.
